

RALSHAM (Est. 1956)

This is Scoobie at 6 months old

Having been out of the ring for a number of years, this has not stopped me still being in love with this wonderful breed, or from attending many shows to watch this breed. My heart has always belonged to Pekingese. They are my passion and run through my veins like blood. I had to get my priorities right. I could not look after my mother full-time, work, run the house and give the Pekingese 100%. Its Head over Heart and I have to admit this broke my heart. I am now blessed to own yet another Pekingese. This is down to Anita Klerks-Delucchi and Bill for allowing me to have my boy.

This past year has been tough for both Peter and myself, with Peter's sister being rushed into hospital unconscious for 5 weeks. So for us the journey every week was long and gruelling. Scoobie has brought back some normality to our lives. He makes me smile, he makes me curse. He is demanding, stubborn and bloody minded. Everything you love in a Pekingese. And I love everything about him. For us we still have so much going on with Peters sister which will fall over into 2020. I didn't think another Pekingese could possibly come into my life, let alone give me the warm feeling inside this young man gives me. I have these past years existed not having a Pekinese. But existing isn't enough. The Passion The Love The Thrill of owning a Pekingese again is something truly Special.

My other passion is of course Judging, and I am blessed to still be getting invited to judge. My first appointment was in 1982 at The East of England Championship Show, fast forward a few years (like a lot of years) and I am so looking forward to judging once again in 2020 at Birmingham National.

Klerkshof Spencer at 10 months, known to his friends as SCOOBIE

Hopefully 2020 will be a far better year for us and bring us lots of nice surprises instead of horrible ones.
